MARKET OUTLOOK

LOCAL BOND MARKET

The Bangko Sentral ng Pilipinas (BSP) trimmed its policy rates for the 3rd time this year last September 26. The BSP cut policy rates by 25 basis points to 4.0%. The decision was widely expected given the country's low inflation rate and the US FOMC's decision to cut the Fed Funds Target Rate last September 9.

August inflation was reported at 1.7%, the slowest pace in three (3) years amid lower prices of food, particularly rice. This was also lower than market consensus of 1.8%. On a year to date basis, average inflation stands at 3.0%.

All auctions for the month were fully awarded and oversubscribed, except for the re-issued 20Y Treasury Bonds (FXTN 20-23) which was fully rejected.

A day after the it cut policy rates, the BSP also announced a 100 basis points reduction in the reserve requirement ratio (RRR) for universal banks and commercial banks, thrift banks and rural banks. This will take effect at the start of November. This will set the stage for the release of more funds for lending activities especially for government projects in the pipeline.

With inflation expectation continuing on the downside and monetary easing from various central banks, we expect local bond yields to move with a downward bias. Although volatility may persist in the short term given geopolitical tensions around the globe.

STRATEGY

The Fund will continue to invest in high yielding deposit instruments.
